

TASD PARENT AWARENESS SERIES

Drug Trends and Promoting a Healthy Community Environment

Matthew Null, Community Relations Specialist

Roxbury Treatment Center

Tuesday, April 23, 2024

6:30pm, TAHS Auditorium

Matthew Null is the Community Relations Specialist at the Roxbury Treatment Center in Shippensburg, PA, which specializes in individualized care for those suffering from mental illness, substance use/abuse, and co-occurring disorders. Mr. Null is a Certified Associate Addictions Professional and a Certified Prevention Specialist and speaks regularly to school personnel and communities about recent drug trends among teens and the community at large.

Mr. Null will share important tips for parents about drug trends, how to talk to children about drug use and abuse, and what to look for in and around children regarding drug use. A Question and Answer session will follow the presentation.

Due to the nature of the topic and content, this presentation is developed for and delivered to an adult audience only.

Our goal is to provide information and resources to equip parents with tools to help keep their children safe and to be aware of what children/teens are facing in today's society.

Representatives from Blair Drug and Alcohol Partnership (Blair DAP) will also be available to provide information and resources available to the community.
